

Security concerns are growing – with unique attacks arising each day. It is imperative to have a plan in place to mitigate risks, educate staff and to address any breaches that have occurred.

iQSG's Security Assessment offerings can be proactive, reactive or remediatory depending on your need. They build and validate baselines for your environment, help to lower cost of auditing stipulations, automate labor intensive processes, validate proposed changes and provide impact analysis on compliance requirements.

What Phase of the Security Lifecycle are you in?

Been breached?

Mitigate and repair critical incidents then build solutions to address causes and threats.

At risk?

Pin point weaknesses before an attacker does and create tactics to decrease breach response times and impact.

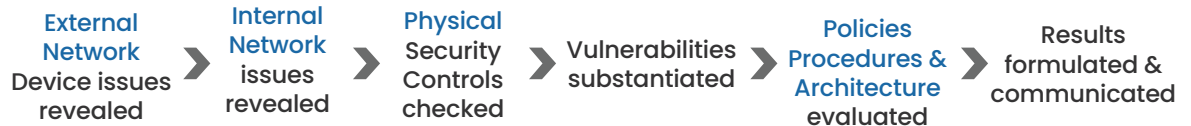

Prepared?

Assess locations that could be forms of compromise and learn how to improve the defense posture of your organization.

Protected?

Just compliant isn't enough. Extend protection and coverage to include changing tactics, tool and procedures of advanced attackers.
